

McNemar paired test: gains stop being significant after 2 000

Each point is evaluated on the identical 400 items, so the paired test is far more sensitive than comparing two accuracy figures.